WINTER SAFETY & DWMO

SAFETY

Winter Safety

Cooking Safety: To avoid any accidental burns or scalds, children should stay at least 3 feet away from the stove.

- Keep flammable items away from the stovetop. Avoid wearing loose clothing, which could catch fire on burners.
- Do not leave cooking unattended.
- Keep the floor clear of any tripping hazards, such as bags or toys.
- Stay alert while cooking on the stove.
- Exercise caution when handling hot liquids and foods. Steam or splashes can cause serious burns, as well as the trays, pans and serving dishes they are in.

Here are some winter heating safety tips:

- Keep flammable objects away from the heater.
- Don't skip annual cleanings and inspections.
- Keep air intakes free of snow and other debris.
- Place smoke detectors and carbon monoxide alarms on every floor.
- Check electric space heaters for safety features before use.
- Always let professionals handle repairs.

Safety tips for decorating Christmas trees:

- Inspect and test lights before decorating.
- Choose flame-resistant decorations.
- Place the tree away from high traffic areas, heating vents, and burning candles.
- Keep decorations out of reach of children.
- Avoid sharp or breakable decorations.
- Never leave candles unattended.
- Do not overload electrical outlets.

Prepare for Emergencies:

- Safe winter driving involves several key practices and preparations to navigate snowy and icy conditions. To ensure safety, it's important to:
 - Winterize your vehicle. This includes checking tire tread and battery health.
 - Adjust driving techniques. Increase following distance and avoid using cruise control.
 - Be prepared for emergencies. Keep an emergency kit in your vehicle.
- These measures are essential for maintaining control on the road and being able to handle any incidents that may occur during winter in the United States.

Destructive Weather Mitigation Operations (DWMO)

- Destructive Weather Mitigation Operations (DWMO): Directs installation preparation, prevention, protection, mitigation, response and recovery for all potential destructive weather conditions (snow, ice, hail, tornado/winds, and flooding) instead of just Snow and Ice Removal (SNAIR) operations.
- Objective:
 - FLW organizations respond to and recover from destructive weather with minimal disruption to mission and maximum safety of FLW personnel and families.
- Key Points:
 - Decisions address overall installation operations; subordinate commanders and leaders are responsible for addressing specific issues within their organization.
 - Notifications of changes from normal operations transmitted using Alert!, social media (FLW Face Book and X), and local radio stations.
 - Delayed reporting timelines allow installation assets to prepare for operations; reporting early can hinder recovery operations.

- Information available at <https://home.army.mil/wood/Garrison/weather>
 - Instructions to set up Alert! messaging for CAC and non-CAC users to send notifications to work computer screen, email (work and home), telephone (work and home), and text messages.
 - Definitions of inclement weather/other emergency operating status messages.
 - Protective action information.
 - Emergency and weather hotline telephone numbers.

- Current weather conditions available at <https://home.army.mil/wood/Garrison/weather/snair>
 - Daily forecast and current hazardous weather watches and warnings.
 - Current road conditions across FLW.

- Local radio stations used for notifications:
 - Lebanon - FM 103.7 KJEL (only station manned 24/7)
 - Rolla - FM 99.7 KTTR
 - St. Robert/Waynesville - FM 97.9 KFBD/FM 98.9 KFLW/FM 102.3 KIIK
